THE CAMPAIGN.

Matters of Interest to Voters of Lawrence.

Some Important Points Worthy of Consideration by Citizens of This County.

Questions For Mr. Giles Wright.

The following questions are respectfully submitted to Mr. Giles Wright, candidate for the State Senate upon the Republican ticket.

Mr. Wright, did you not sign an agreement with the liquor people to vote against the County Unit temperance bill if elected to the State Senate?

Later, when you learned that your position on this question was going to lose a great many votes for you, did you not sign a statement indicating that you favor the prohibition bill referred to above? If so, was this not done with the full knowledge and consent of the liquor interests with whom the agreement above referred to was made?

Did you not chastise your son for joining in the parade of the temperance people in Ashland on the morning of the local option election held August 13th?

Jay O'Daniel For Superintendent.

If you want a careful, conscientious administration of the school laws, vote for Jay O'Daniel for Superintendent.

If you want school houses improved and coal supplies furnished promptly, vote for O'Daniel.

If you want all districts arranged so that children in some places will not be required to go from three to five miles to school, vote for O'Daniel.

If you want equal rights for everybody, regardless of personal favors or political affiliations, vote for O'Daniel.

If you want the services of a truly educated man, with experience in modern methods and with progressive ideas, vote for Jay O'Daniel.

Mr. O'Daniel is one of the bravest and best prepared men connected with school work in Eastern Kentucky today.

Appeals To The Good People.

Roy H. B. Huett comes before the people asking their suffrage "without scrip or purse," refusing to believe that the day has come when nothing but money and trickery will win in an election. He still has faith in the integrity of the people. He believes that when awakened to a situation which calls for action that will upset the work of scheming politicians, the good people can be depended upon to do it. Upon this faith in his fellow man he bases his hope of election to the office of Circuit Court Clerk.

Readers who are interested in campaign matters will find some interesting reading on page six of this issue.

Catlettsburg Ticket.

The Republicans and Democrats met Monday night at Catlettsburg and named a mixed ticket composed of the following:

For Mayor, J. J. Montague, Dem.; for Police Judge, J. H. McConnell, Dem.; for Councilmen First Ward, T. L. Ford, Sr., Rep.; C. B. Wellman, Dem.; for Councilmen Second Ward, John E. McCall, Dem.; H. Darlington, Rep.; for councilmen third ward, W. B. Wellman, Dem.; Frank Ross, Rep.

The Biggest Yoke.

Charley Rose last week bought of Judge George Carson, of Lacy Creek, in Wolf county, the biggest yoke of cattle that was probably ever raised in the mountains. They are 7 years old, bright red in color, and weigh 4,500 pounds. Mr. Rose paid Mr. Carson $500 for the yoke.

Grand Lodge F. & A. M.

The grand lodge of Free and Accepted Masons of Kentucky met in annual session at 10 o'clock last Tuesday morning, and probably 500 delegates from subordinate lodges were present. The meetings were held at the Masonic Theater.

The officers' reports were up for consideration Tuesday morning, and Virgil P. Smith, grand master, of Somerset, made his report and delivered the annual address at that session. New officers were selected Wednesday afternoon and, according to the usual custom of selecting the officers, John H. Cowles, of Louisville, deputy grand master, was advanced to the higher office. It is probable that there will be a contest for the office of grand junior warden, which is the first office in the lodge that leads to higher honors.

Among the questions to come up for consideration at this session of the grand lodge is that of declaring an additional per capita tax of 25 cents for the support of the Home for Aged Masons at Shelbyville.

Monday night the grand council of Royal and Select Masters will discuss the question of taking the meetings of the council to the different Kentucky cities instead of confining the sessions to Louisville. The same question was taken up by the grand chapter of Royal and Select Masters, which met Tuesday and Wednesday nights.

Hospital For Paintsville.

Paintsville is to have a first-class hospital. Plans have been perfected for the construction of a hospital building and the installation of equipments that will make it second to but few hospitals in the State.

The Consolidation Coal Company, the Northeast Coal Company, John C. Mayo and others are back of the movement, which means that the building will be constructed and equipped at an early date.

A company has been formed and stock will be offered for sale, the idea being to interest as many people in the enterprise as possible. A site has not as yet been selected, but enough is known that the building will be located in the most desirable place, special pains being taken to secure a site free from noise.

The need of a good hospital has been felt for years and the people will find this piece of news with keen delight.—Herald.

DISTRICT CONFERENCE

Of the M. E. Church South to Convene at Louisa Nov. 9th.

The Ashland District Conference will convene at Louisa, Ky., November 9, at 9:30 a.m.

The District Stewards for the Ashland District will meet at Louisa, November 9, 1:30 p.m.

In connection with the District Conference the Lay Leaders will hold their meeting Thursday 11th, 1:30 p.m. The Epworth Leagues will be granted a day.

This will be a very important and interesting occasion. Ministers and lay delegates from the various churches in the district will be present, and in addition to the regular business of the Conference there will be preaching by different clerical members.

In announcing the meeting last Sunday morning, the pastor, the Rev. W. L. Reid, said that Louisa hospitality was wide-famed, and he hoped that the attendance upon the Conference would test it. The power of the "cloth" to absorb and assimilate good food is also renowned, but the good people hereabouts will be equal to the occasion.

From An Unseen Censor."

If the contemporaries of the NEWS who did it the honor to copy its squib concerning Louisa's first automobile had used correct orthography neither the shade of Poe nor the writer of the little bit of pleasantries would have had cause to groan.

The "incense from an unseen censor" who narrowly escaped being smashed would have smelled of sulphur and not of gasoline.

A Law That is Misconstrued.

"If you should write a check for less than $1 after January 1, 1910, you will subject yourself to the possibility of a fine of $500, or being imprisoned for six months in jail. Protests by the hundreds are being filed by merchants, retail houses of all kinds, especially those doing mail order business, and by all business men in general, against section 178 of the penal law, which was approved March 4, 1909, and which provides that no person shall make, issue or pay out any note, check, memorandum, token or other obligation for a less sum than $1 intended to circulate as money or to be received or used in lieu of lawful money of the United States."

The above and similar articles have been going the rounds of the newspapers for some time and are very misleading. The law alluded to is simply the re-enactment of existing law. During the war of the Rebellion it became the custom of many merchants to issue what they called store checks for 5, 10, 25 and 50 cents which passed current as money. About this same time Congress began to issue paper money—greenbacks and shinplasters. Some merchants tried to limit this money as closely as possible, and did issue their checks as nearly like United States money as possible. It was to prevent such practice that the law of July 17, 1862, was passed. It does not affect commercial or ordinary bank checks, and was never so intended. Bank checks are not intended to circulate as money, or within the meaning of the statute are they to be received or issued in lieu of lawful money. They are demand notes on banks for the payment in lawful money of the sum stated in the check, and this re-enacted section will not in any way interfere with the ordinary custom of using checks in commercial affairs.

Have Gone to Texas.

On Tuesday last B. J. (Bill Jim) Chaffin and family left Louisa for Houston, Texas, intending to make their home in that city. Many friends were at the train to see them off, and the expressions of regret at their departure were hearty and sincere.

Mr. and Mrs. Chaffin were among our most highly respected people, and to regret the leaving of such citizens is only natural. "Bill Jim," as Mr. Chaffin was generally called, was a popular traveling salesman in this section. He is a sober, industrious, honest man, and as such the NEWS commends him to the people of his new home, wishing for him and his family a full measure of health and happiness.

Saw a Balloon.

A balloon, supposed to be a racer, passed over Paintsville about 5:40 Wednesday morning, October 13, sailing in an easterly direction. Two passengers are thought to have been aboard. This unusual sight was witnessed by quite a number of the early risers, and was the sole topic for a time.

The balloon contained Col. Max Fleischman, of Cincinnati, and one other passenger. It left Cincinnati on the 12th and landed near Fredericksburg, Va., on the following Thursday.

Against The Law.

The closed season for the hunting of rabbits and squirrels is now on, and it is against the law to kill these animals from now until the beginning of the quail season on November 15th. The law governing these animals was passed for the purpose of affording protection to quail during the two months immediately preceding the expiration of the closed season. Some hunters take advantage of the opportunities offered for other game and kill quail while supposed to be hunting rabbits and squirrels.

Masonic Delegates.

A. J. Conley, representing the Chapter, and Robert Dixon, representing the Blue Lodge, left on Monday last to attend the Grand Chapter and Grand Lodge now in session in Louisville. Delegates from the upper tier of counties began to go down as early as Saturday last.

COMMENDABLE

Career of Attorney James W. Hinkle.

Has Thoroughly Fitted Himself Professionally and Built a Character at the Same Time.

One of the brightest and best equipped of the younger lawyers of the Big Sandy valley is James W. Hinkle, candidate for County Attorney of Lawrence.

Early in life he determined to come a good lawyer. Being a poor boy and dependent upon his own efforts he went to work to accomplish this laudable ambition and stuck to the task with dogged perseverance through all the years that have intervened. Taking advantage of all the schooling within his reach he acquired a good literary education, which is a very essential part of the foundation for good legal equipment. He worked as a coal miner and read law at night by the light of pine knots. Saving all of his hard-earned money that he could above living expenses he finally entered a law school and took a complete course, graduating with a high record. Before this he had studied in the office of his uncle, Judge John S. Patton, of Martin county, whose superior ability was recognized throughout Eastern Kentucky.

Having had to work his way through, the result in the case of Mr. Hinkle has been the same as is usual under such circumstances. He has made good use of every opportunity, and the training received in the struggle has fitted him for success. He is a close student, a quality which can not be credited to all who have license to practice law. He has more ability than the average lawyer. His character is absolutely above reproach in every particular. He will make an official of whom all the people will be proud. No graft, no political trickery, no dodging of duty if James W. Hinkle is elected as the people's attorney. He will stand up for their rights and against the ravages of greed and graft that otherwise sap the vitals of the financial system of our county. He has the ability and the legal qualifications and also the moral courage and character to do it. All this can not be said of every candidate who wants to be elected to the important office of County Attorney.

Below we reproduce the wording of the diploma issued to Mr. Hinkle by the law school from which he graduated:

Southern Normal School,
Bowling Green, Ky.

This certifies that James Wm. Hinkle is a graduate of the Law School of this institution and has completed the course of legal study required here and that we consider him qualified for admission to the Bar as Attorney at Law.

Therefore we do hereby confer upon him the degree of Bachelor of Laws.

Awarded and signed at Bowling Green, Ky., this 7th day of June, 1905.

Returned After Seven Years.

The relatives and friends of G. W. Hays were surprised and grieved by his unexpected return one day this week. He had been in the army for seven years, and in that time his father had heard from him only once. Mr. Hays is a fine looking Lawrence county boy, of good stock. His father is J. M. (Mansfield) Hays, and lives at Ratcliffe, this county.

Grand Junior Warden.

Joseph H. Ewalt, of Paris, was elected Grand Junior Warden of the Kentucky Masonic Grand Lodge, which puts him in line for Grand Master.

Both Good Preachers.

It is well that a college town like Louisa should have preachers who can attract and interest as well as instruct. A young man or young woman is pretty safe in church, and the lessons taught there are nearly always of lasting good.

The NEWS can truthfully say to the students of the K. N. C. that the Rev. W. L. Reid, of the South Church, and the Rev. Dr. Hanford, of the M. E. Church, are preachers of more than ordinary ability. They are learned men, men of good address, thoughtful and earnest. They preach most excellent sermons, and besides being pleasant to hear they give their hearers something to think about every time.

You will find it a very helpful practice, young man and young woman, to take notes of the sermons. Study these notes in connection with your Bible and think about what you read, and you will find your mind more comprehensive and your brain brighter. Employ your Sundays in this manner and you will never regret it. The same can not be said of some other ways of spending your time.

The Goat Versus The Elk.

Several members of the Masonic and the Elk fraternities are more or less expert at bowling, and on 1st Tuesday evening four Masons and four Elks met at Crumpler's by previous arrangement and fought it out to a finish. The brethren of the square and compasses were G. A. Nash, Dr. W. Arlo Moore, T. L. Muncaster and G. R. Burgess. The long-horned gentlemen were George Skene, Arch McClure, J. G. Burns and R. L. Vinson.

Wives, sisters and sweethearts were present, besides many others, and applause, ironical and otherwise, was loud and frequent. It took three hours and a half to settle the question of superiority, which was won by 80 pins in favor of the Masons.

New Clerk For Dr. Bruner.

After having been vacant for several weeks, since the resignation of W. E. Bidwell, the clerkship in the Secretary of State's office has been filled by the appointment of Samuel Ward, of Perry county. Mr. Ward was originally from Magoffin county. He is an expert typewriter, is married and will make his home in Frankfort.

CRUSHED BY SLATE.

Harvey Shannon Seriously Injured at Torchlight.

On Saturday last Harvey Shannon was the victim of a very serious accident while working in the mines at Torchlight, seven miles south of this city. A mass of slate fell upon him, inflicting very painful injuries. His left hip was dislocated, his nose was torn nearly off, and numerous lesser hurts and many bruises were sustained.

Dr. F. D. Marcus, the mine physician, attended to the man's injuries. Shannon is a son of Harry Shannon and is an industrious, sober man.

Harry's boys are unlucky at work. The man who was hurt on Saturday is a brother of the Shannon who had his leg broken at the dam at Chapman and who has not yet, or possibly recently, left the Louisa hospital.

Poor Bob!

Numerous quail have visited the yards and gardens of Louisa during the past few days, filling the air with their melodious whistle. Poor Bob! Your clear call to your mate is but your ante burial dirge. Less than a short month will find you and your kin served on toast at many a festive occasion.

Has Gone East.

J. K. Whitten, Louisa manager of the Huntington Handie Company, has gone East to remain ten days or two weeks. During his absence the business at the factory will be conducted by A. J. Hard.

Murderer Howard Little is Penitent.

Howard Little, charged with the atrocious murder on Knox creek, is still safely ensconced in the Russell county jail at Lebanon, Va. He is said to be spending most of his time in prayer and Bible reading, so that, as some one has put it, "In case his guilt is established he will go prepared to enter the golden bence by the hemp route"—which, however, is hardly exact, as the "route" is now by electricity in Virginia. He is said to have changed in appearance, and is gaunt and sunken cheeked as one in great mental anguish.

Search is still being made for the blood money, but at this writing it has not been located. Little is expected to make a confession almost any time, but has not yet done so. Little is said to have killed a man in this state some years ago, for which he was at first sentenced to life imprisonment. It is also said that he boasted that if he ever killed a man again there would be no witnesses to the deed.

Shooting Near Paintsville.

Fred Daniels was shot in the leg at Millers Creek coal mines by Jonathan Jenkins, superintendent of machinery for the Consolidated Coal Company, last Tuesday.

Daniels seemed to have it in for Superintendent Jenkins for some imaginary reason and Tuesday when he met Jenkins, who was riding horseback, stopped him, taking the horse by the bridle, at the same time drawing a knife. It was then that Jenkins drew his pistol and shot Daniels in the leg. The wound is not serious. Daniels is a bad man, having served one term in the penitentiary for robbery.

Evangelistic Meetings.

Evangelist James B. McKeahan, Th. M., of Williamsburg, Ky., who has been used of the Lord in bringing hundreds of souls to Christ in Eastern Kentucky in the last year, arrived in our city Wednesday evening and began meetings here in the Baptist Church. Services will be held each afternoon at 2:00 o'clock, and each evening at 6:30, central time. All the Christian people of the town are invited to come and co-operate in these meetings in bringing a general revival in the town.

Rev. D. H. Reid.

Rev. D. H. Reid, pastor of the Emmanuel M. E. Church, South, has been returned to that church by Bishop Hoss, contrary to the Jack Johnson, the negro pugilist, retained the world's heavyweight championship Saturday by knocking out Stanley Ketchel in the twelfth round at Colma, Cal. The fight was hot from start to finish and the negro was badly punished before disposing of his lighter opponent. The receipts were over $40,000.

At Covington United States Judge Cochran granted the motion for a new trial in the alleged "night rider" case of W. S. Henderson, formerly of Bracken county, but now of Cincinnati, against Vachel Jordan and others on the ground that the award of $300 damages was too small. Henderson sued for $50,000 damages.

Willie Boy, the Piute Indian desperado for whom three armed posses have been searching the San Bernardino desert in California, was found dead Saturday on the summit of Bullion Mountain, where he had been making his final stand. He had killed himself with the last shot in his rifle and had been dead several days.

Pittsburgh won the world's baseball championship Saturday by overwhelming Detroit by the score of 8 to 0 in the seventh and decisive game of one of the hardest world's series ever fought. This was the third successive time Detroit has been defeated in the world's championship series, and consequently the third straight victory for the National League, the Chicago Nationals having won the title in 1907 and 1908. To Charles Adams, a former Louisville pitcher, belongs the major portion of the credit for winning the series.

A Check Account avoids the risk and trouble of making change.

YOU CAN write on a check the exact amount you wish to transfer—$1.00 or $1.99—any amount. You do not need to have change in your pocket, nor does the other party have to change the money you hand him.

Pay by check—you can save time and trouble.

THE RISK of error in making change is entirely eliminated when you pay by check. Should you overpay with a check, you have recourse. The check shows plainly the amount paid.

Whitesburg, Ky., Oct. 16.—In a dispute over a card game at Galmorgan, in the coal fields, Brint Sexton, aged thirty-two years, of this county, was shot and killed, and a posse is looking for John Cook, also formerly of this county, who is charged with shooting.

Former Congressman H. F. Finley, for many years a leader in the Republican party in this State, died at his home at Williamsburg. He was 77 years of age and the father of Charley Finley, recently of Indianapolis, Secretary of State of Kentucky from 1895 to 1899.

Gov. Blackburn, of the Panama Canal Zone, who arrived at New York Saturday, said he had not handed in his resignation, and intimated that he would not do so. He said the canal is now one of the healthiest spots on the earth.

KENTUCKY NEIGHBORS.

A living girl babe, not more than thirty-six hours old, was found in a suit case in a box car of a C. & O. freight train just east of Huntington Sunday. The conductor heard the screams of the infant. The little tot was neatly dressed, but nothing could be found which would lead to its identity.

Word comes that the Rev. It. B. Neal, formerly of Grayson, but for a year or so pastor of the Christian Church at Pikeville, tendered his resignation as pastor of this charge last Sunday, to take effect January 1st next. Rev. Mr. Neal is famed as "The Mountain Evangelist," and is quite well known in Louisa.

Huntington, W. Va., Oct. 14.—Miss Bouna McAbee, who claims Ashland as her home, is in a critical condition in a local hospital as a result of an accident here early Thursday morning. Miss McAbee and Mrs. Ida Hensley, also of Ashland, were in the auto accompanied by C. W. Watts and Ned Aleshire of this city. When three miles outside of Huntington the machine ran over an embankment. Miss McAbee was caught under the car and sustained serious injuries. The flesh of her right leg was terribly mangled and may necessitate the amputation of the limb. The attending physicians fear blood poisoning may set in.

Merrill Bowman, the young C. & O. switchman, who was struck by C. & O. passenger train No. 1 last Friday just above the passenger station in Russell, and who was removed to the C. & O. hospital in Huntington for treatment, died in that institution Sunday noon without having regained consciousness. The members of his family and many relatives were at his bedside when the end came. The body was shipped to Ironton Monday afternoon and the funeral took place Wednesday morning. The burial was at South Point, the former home of the deceased.—Russell Democrat.

A young man by the name of Frank Keathley, whose home is in Pike county, came to Ironton a few days ago to visit his uncle, Kelley Brammer. After remaining a few days with his kinsman, he started to return to his home, and simultaneously with his departure Jesse Deegans, a son-in-law of Brammer, missed a diamond ring and some other jewelry. It was natural to suspect that the Keathley youth had taken it and he had the Coal Grove police intercept him and place him under arrest. This was done when the missing goods were found upon his person. He was taken to Ironton and held to answer to the grand jury, being jailed in default of bond to the sum of $200.—Catskill Tribune.

erved from the Johnson Fork, in Magoffin county, are entitled to credence. Mrs. Minerva Vanover of that neighborhood is possessed of greater healing powers than Schrader, even in his palme days.

The wife of a plain country farmer, a little, unassuming, gentle woman, Mrs. Vanover is accredited with some remarkable cures by the laying-on process. No knives, no blood, no pills nor tonics, but by a simple faith, and the patient is soon released cured. Some of the leading citizens of that section vouch for Mrs. Vanover's curative powers and so wide spread has her fame become that people are flocking to her home by the hundreds seeking her aid in ridding themselves from the numerous ills to which the flesh is heir.

No charge is made, no questions asked, and the laying-on process is quietly and quickly done, and the sufferer is told to depart in peace, sound in body. Mrs. Vanover's fame is rapidly spreading and in a short time it is thought, she can hardly administer to the great number of persons that will call.

Her father was a man possessed of more or less power to heal the afflicted and from him she inherited her great strength as a healer, which has now made her famous where she is known.—Paintsville Herald.

Ten Doctors Said He Would Die

"In 1903 we wrote you regarding my husband, who was suffering from heart trouble. He was superannuated by the North Georgian Conference. Ten doctors at different times said he would die. You advised Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy and Restorative Nervine; we did as advised, and improvement was apparent from the very first. He recovered and the Conference in 1904 gave him a charge. He never felt better, although he has very heavy work and does a great deal of camp meeting work. I am so glad we took your advice and gave him the medicine, and feel that I ought to let you know of the wonderful good results from its use."

The eternal fitness of things is not observed when a man who is rich enough to own an automobile doesn't know how to pronounce the word correctly.

A "Taft Democrat" has been appointed assistant postmaster at Richmond, Va. But what is a "Taft Democrat," asks the Bath County A. D. A. "Taft Democrat" is a Democrat pro tem and pro revenue.

If the State were districts so as to give a Republican majority in Congress and the Legislature Gov. Wilson would not have found it so necessary for the public good to re-district it.

Could He By Anybody's Else? Commits suicide by his own hands," is the way a Greenup paper headlines the suicide of Robert Rayburn, at Palmyra, Greenup county, last week.

Harder To Move Out.

Nearly all of the State officials have now finished moving into the new Capitol.

Their brief stay in such luxurios quarters will make their moving out in a year or so all the harder.

It is hardly necessary to call attention to the fact that Add Skeens is a crippled man and has a wife and children to support. He has acquired a good education and is a competent County Clerk. He does not drink and has taken an oath that he will not do so if elected. He needs the office and will render the best of service as an evidence of his appreciation.

Hon. Jerome T. Prichard, for State Senate, is an avowed temperance man. A strong fight is being made against him by the liquor people. They disregard politics when the liquor question is involved. Certainly the temperance people can not afford to be less diligent or less loyal to their moral principles. Vote for Prichard if you are against liquor.

In the race for County Attorney the voters of Lawrence county will have a chance to choose between a worthy native on one side and an office seeker on the other side who only recently moved into this county, after holding office eighteen years in Martin. James W. Hinkle merits the support of the people of Lawrence county, regardless of party affiliations. Elect him and he will be true to the interests of the whole people, irrespective of politics. He is no trading, scheming politician, but is a clean, able man who can be trusted.

The office of Commonwealth's Attorney is as important as that of Circuit Judge. It must be filled by a good lawyer and one who is capable of ably conducting criminal prosecutions. Otherwise the violators of law will go unpunished and crime will become rampant. A Circuit Judge can not prosecute and without the aid of a strong prosecutor he is almost powerless to enforce the laws. John M. Waugh is one of the ablest criminal lawyers in the State. This is the last time he will ask for or accept the office and the district should and will elect him.

The liquor people packed the Republican legislative convention at Ashland and took the nomination away from Hon. Brig. Harris, a "dry" man, who was the only candidate up to that hour. They nominated a liquor man whose name had never been mentioned publicly. It is not surprising that a great howl arose from the good people of the counties of Floyd and Lawrence. When Hon. W. J. Vaughan was nominated and accepted the nomination the situation was very much relieved and the temperance people were thereby given a chance to show their colors.

Give Charley Cooper the Assessor's office and thereby help him in some measure to recover his severe property loss, sustained when his residence was burned and his children consumed in the flames.

Prichard and Vaughan will stand unmovable for temperance and morality in the General Assembly of Kentucky if the people will vote their professed sentiments and send them there on Nov. 2nd.

The outrageous treatment accorded Hon. Brig. Harris, of Catlettsburg, will be resented by the temperance people of this legislative district. The most sincere of them will vote for Hon. W. J. Vaughan for its representative.

Uncle Al. Hays, the "cleverest" man on earth! Who is cold-blooded enough to vote against him for jailer?

Vote for Milt Evans for Sheriff and get a man of energy and experience. He has served as deputy and is ready to take up the duties and perform them properly.

English As She Is Spoke.

Standing on a prominent corner the other day the Herald saw a wagon coming down the street. It was driven by a good looking young farmer, and it contained produce. The driver was hailed by a man near the postoffice with the following question:

"Are they sold?"

"No," was the answer.

"Are they nice ones?"

"The finest you ever saw."

Whereupon the interrogator started to examine the "nice ones," and the Herald thinking he might pick up a bargain in chickens or potatoes, went to the wagon, too. But the "finest ones you ever saw" were neither potatoes nor chickens—it was sorghum! And disgusted, the Herald went into a neighboring grocery just in time to hear the storekeeper ask a customer how many cheese he would have.

KENTUCKY.

Was Born in Louisa.

The wedding of Thomas R. Young, Jr., and Miss Bessie Lee Berry took place at 8:30 o'clock on Wednesday evening at the home of the bride's parents, Dr. and Mrs. W. A. Berry, on East Winchester avenue, Ashland, the Rev. Dr. W. C. Condit, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, officiating.

The handsome bride was born in this city. The groom is assistant postmaster of Ashland.

Mrs. Berry, mother of the bride, was Miss Belle Jordan, daughter of the late Judge J. J. Jordan.

Dr. York Called To Catlettsburg.

Dr. L. H. York, of Louisa, is in the city on business today. The doctor is the proprietor and head of the fine hospital at his town and is said to be doing a good business, as well as rendering himself quite a humane character to his fellow-citizens.—Tribune.

The doctor had been called to Catlettsburg to see Mr. A. Mims, who has been sick several weeks.

Six Thirty P. M.

Because of the shorter days evening service at the church will begin at six thirty. It is hoped that this hour will not conflict with the arrival of the train from Ashland.

A good many will not go to Sunday School until after the 9:24 train runs, and the railroad company should be more considerate, and run this train so the sweet young things could see "who went" before attending to trivial matters.

Killed by Falling Tree.

David and Stephen Branham, two young men, brothers, were killed last Friday by a falling tree at the Yellow Poplar Lumber Company's operations at Bessie, Virginia, not far from the Pike county line. They were both chopping the same tree when it fell, striking both and killed them instantly.

Good Price For Mules.

Reed Roberts, of Two Mile, recently sold a two year old mule for $160 cash. It is a fine young animal, worth the money.

This is another chapter the NEWS is publishing on the value of the mule to the farmer.

Mysterious Disappearance.

It has been reported to the NEWS that Miss Edith Brown, a well known young lady of Lockwood, had mysteriously disappeared from her home. She has not been seen by her parents since Friday last, and they are almost distracted with grief.

Another Republican Ineligible.

Owing to his position as County Court Clerk of Letcher, Andrew J. Sturgill, the Republican nominee for Representative from the counties of Letcher, Knott and Floyd, has been declared ineligible. Leslie Hogg, of Roxana, was named in his place.

Former Representative Watson G. Candill, the Democratic nominee, has a good chance to win.

107 Years Of Age.

The Rev. Reuben Moore, of Caudill, has a visitor in the person of an aunt who is said to be one hundred and seven years old, having been born in 1802. She is well and hearty and has an excellent memory.

She is from Pike county.

SOMEWHAT POLITICAL.

An Appeal to Voters.

Rove Creek.
Brother Democrats and Fellow-Citizens of Lawrence County:
If there ever was a time in the county's history when the voters should wake up to thoughtful consideration of an approaching election, surely it is now. It does not take a financier of the Alexander Hamilton type to fully comprehend the status of our county affairs.

What we need most is to select men of unquestionable honesty, men who will skilfully manage the affairs in such economical and prudent manner that their term will be a blessing to our country.

As to the office of County Attorney, special attention and consideration should be given. Is it wisdom to elect a man of unusually long official experience, an adept at political schemes, or should we elect a young man with a brilliant future before him, a man of great aspirations and a determination that knows no obstacle when duty calls? Surely, we should lay aside every hindrance, and man to man vote for the intrepid champion of the people, Jas. W. Waugh.

For the last four years our country government has been strictly under the guidance of Republican regime, and we claim that it would now be better to have a change.

Space will not permit me to discuss the excellent qualities of the nominees of the Democratic ticket individually, but it is enough to say that a better ticket could not have been selected.

Hurrah! for Waugh.

A DEMOCRAT.

AN APPEAL FOR SUPPORT.

Our Citizens Should Vote for Prichard and Vaughan.

Vote for Jerome Prichard for State Senator and W. J. Vaughan for Representative, and by doing so you can't make a mistake.

First, these men are not politicians, neither one sought the position, and accepted only because they felt that it becomes a citizen's duty to respond to the urgent call of so many of our very best citizens.

Second, they are men whose character is above reproach. They are men of intelligence. Their ability to fill the positions is beyond question. They understand the wants of the people. They don't belong to the class of men that can be influenced to do their country wrong to enrich themselves. Their records are clean; they are for the upbuilding of the moral principles of our State. The thing we have needed so long in Kentucky is more Bibles, fewer Winchesters; better schools, fewer stills; better roads, less feuds. If you desire better conditions, vote for the men who are in favor of better laws.

Third, these men are solid on the temperance question. They are not men who signed the pledge or swore off six months ago to get ready to make this race; but they have lived for years what they profess. They are the very class of representatives we need to pass the County Unit Law. Every county in the Senatorial and Legislative Districts is dry, except one corporate town, and that would have been dry had the County Unit bill been passed last winter. The people within those counties voted out the licensed saloons. Why not speak out again in November and prove that you are still in favor of temperance? By so doing you can help other counties and towns to get rid of the terrible evil that has stained our fair State with human blood from one end to the other.

VOTER.

JOHN M. WAUGH

Our Competent Commonwealth's Attorney, Who Asks for Re-Election.

John M. Waugh is a native of Lawrence county. His boyhood and youth represent years of constant struggle. He was ambitious to make something of himself and had a battle with poverty to procure an education. If he had not possessed the qualities necessary to success—courage, persistence, industry and ability—he would not have overcome the obstacles that stood in his pathway.

John Wnugh was born in Carter county and at the age of four years came to Lawrence with his parents. He remained until a few years ago, when he again became a citizen of Carter.

In his early youth he decided upon the profession of law for his life work and set about to prepare himself properly for it. Diligently did he apply himself toward acquiring a good education, realizing that this is the first requisite to a successful professional career. Having properly laid the foundation he took up the study of law in the same and diligent and energetic manner, mastering it and securing admission to of by him in a business-like manner. After all, it is only a business proposition, but it is a big one.

As a practitioner he has been successful from the beginning. He it who will take hold and do things. Every dollar expended under his prosecution attorneys in the administration will be properly accounted for and none will be wasted. Everybody who knows W. M. Justice is certain of this fact. Elect him County Judge and you will have no cause for regret.

A Speech by Mr. Cain.

Richardson, Ky., Oct. 9. W. T. Cain, Republican nominee for County Attorney, made a speech in this neighborhood which is construed as a reflection upon the officials who have managed the county during the past eight years. It seems that he called special attention to the present County Attorney and left the impression that the County has to pay a substitute to look after the county's interests. The speech sounded like Mr. Cain is going it alone, as he cast reflections upon both parties.

A Non-Resident.

Judge William Lindsay Dead.

Frankfort, Ky., Oct. 15.—Conscious and in full possession of his remarkable faculties until almost the very end, Judge William Lindsay, former United States Senator from Kentucky, and one of the brainiest and biggest lawyers in the United States, died this morning, his last act being one of kindness and showing consideration for others.

Just before he died Senator Lindsay said to his nurse, who was with him:

"Miss Nelson, you are tired and worn out and need sleep, I know. I am getting along all right and I want you to leave me and go to bed and get some sleep."

Miss Nelson felt Senator Lindsay's pulse and found that it was barely beating. She saw that death was near and hastily called the members of the family, who reached the patient's bedside in time to speak to him before he died.

Judge Lindsay died this morning shortly after 6 o'clock at his residence after an illness that had kept him in bed for several months. He had a severe attack of some complicated bladder trouble about two years ago and for several days it was thought he would die at that time, but he rallied and in a short time was able to go about and resume his law practice, though he was never strong again physically.

During the summer he became perceptibly weaker and had to take to his bed. About a week ago he had a severe sinking spell, resulting from uremic poisoning, and after

TO THE PEOPLE.

County Attorney W. M. Savage Defends Himself Against Attacks.

It is being said by a certain unscrupulous fellow who doesn't know what he's talking about that through the incompetency of the county officials (meaning the most of it for the undersigned) that large sums of money have been taken from the county treasury to hire counsel to look after the interests of the county.

Speaking from the records, it has been a custom for the Fiscal Court to get some other lawyer to assist the County Attorney in suits where there was much at stake, so far back as I have traced the record. And saying this without casting any reflection on any one who preceded me as County Attorney, there has been less spent in these four years for help than any like term for many years past. It is true the Fiscal Court did get M. S. Burns to help me in the case of Lawrence county against the Etna Indemnity Company, and M. S. Burns and G. W. Skaggs in the case of Lawrence county against C. & O. R. R. Co., for which they received $250 to be divided between them. Counsel has been called in a few other things during my absence by the County Judge, but the fees were very small.

Those who were present at the close of the Fiscal Court on the 7th day of Oct., 1909, know from the words of praise to the Fiscal body from M. S. Burns, W. D. O'Neal, A. O. Carter and Uncle Rolo Burns, one of the oldest and best lawyers of the Sandy Valley, that they all spoke in words of praise to the Court. They said the county had been for the last four years gradually going out of debt instead of going in debt. M. S. Burns, showed in figures when the amount of judgments was against the county, and every dollar of it was made before the present officers were elected. He further showed that when this county went into the hands of the present officers that there was $6,500 of jail bonds against the county and had been for a number of years, with six per cent. interest, and at the last April term of court $3,000 of this debt was paid, and at the next April court the remainder can be paid, and a good amount paid on the judgments.

OUR NEW TYPESETTING MACHINE.

The Big Sandy News is printed this week from type cast by a new Linotype typesetting machine, which was installed in this office a few days ago. This machine is of the latest and most improved design. It works perfectly and is a wonderful piece of mechanism.

Just five years ago the NEWS added a typesetting machine to its plant. It was the first Linotype installed in the office of a country newspaper in Kentucky. Also, it was the fifteenth machine of this type sold by the manufacturers. In fact, ours was a trial machine and we made reports to the factory from time to time as to the results obtained. Experts came here several times to see how it was doing. Thus Big Sandy had a hand in the development of one of the greatest of modern appliances.

During the past five years many improvements have been made in the Linotype, and for this reason our old machine has been traded in for a new one. The Big Sandy News now has the best equipped country newspaper and printing outfit in the State.

HOME CIRCLE COLUMN.

COLUMN DEDICATED TO TIRED MOTHERS AS THEY JOIN THE HOME CIRCLE.

One of the chief blessings of every home is good cooking.

Make yourself happy by seeing the best in people and things about you.

A woman with a secret she must keep is the most unhappy of mortals but she does not remain so very long.

Half the things we groan over at night will right themselves by tomorrow night, if let alone.

Much happiness is found in homes where the little courtesies of life are observed, for it is, after all, the little things that make our lives pleasant or unpleasant.

How much trouble he avoids who does not look to see what his neighbor says, or does, or thinks; but only to what he does himself, that may be just and pure.

Idlers with wagging tongues pick on climbers for gossip practice. Washington marched through a cloud of criticism from Braddock's defeat to his farewell address. This is the shining mark that always makes the best target. This is for ambitious boys to note.

Nothing more contemptible, unmanly or unwomanly and craven than the everlasting sighing for happiness. Those who have the most of it think the least about it. But in the thinking about and doing their duty happiness comes, because the heart and mind are occupied with earnest thought that teaches at a thousand points the beautiful and sublime realities of the universe.

Squalor is the outward expression of hopeless and unrelied poverty. But it is not needed for the poor man's house to be squalid. On the contrary, with industry and care, and the bright service of a healthy wife, the tiniest cottage may at times be no abode in which the most dainty could pass a short time with pleasure. On the other hand, many houses become squalid without the excuse, miserable as it is, of abject poverty. Thus, while we may fairly rank poverty as a main cause of squalor, it is not absolute absence of money which is the chief cause. Cleaning is neglected; and whatever be the building, and however it be finished and furnished, in which constant cleaning is omitted, dust accumulates, unexplained stains marke their appearance, and a progress, more or less rapid as the case may be, sets up toward decay and dilapidation.

Women In Adversity.

Women should be more trusted and confided in as wives, mothers and sisters. They have as quick perception of right and wrong, and without always knowing why, render the present and future, read characters and acts, designs and probabilities, where man sees no letter or sign. What else do we mean by the adage "mother wit," save that woman has a quicker perception and readier invention than man? How often, when man abandons the helm in despair, woman seizes it, and carries the homestead through the storm! Man often flies from home and family to avoid impending poverty or ruin.

Woman seldom, if ever, forsakes home thus. Woman never evaded home thus. Woman never evaded mere temporary calamity but suicide or desertion. The proud banker, Mrs. Jas. Blackburn, mother of G. R. Blackburn, of this city, who himself is a great-grandfather. About sixty of Mrs. James Blackburn's immediate descendants were present, and the occasion was indeed pleasant as well as unusual once.—Williamson Enterprise.

Loving woman would have counseled him to accept poverty, and live to cherish his family and retrieve his fortune. Woman should be counseled and confided in. It is the beauty and glory of her nature the grand jury by Judge Sampson, that it instinctively grasps at and an indictment was found against B.

clings to the truth and right.

Reason, man's greatest faculty, takes time to hesitate before it decides; but woman's instinct never hesitates in its decision, and is scarcely ever wrong where it has even chances with reason. Woman feels where man thinks, acts where he deliberates, hopes where he despairs, and triumphs where he fails.

We spend our money, as a rule, for that which we like, and we are like that for which we spend our money. It may go for fripperies and materialities that profit nothing. Or it may be made representative of that which is the true bread of life.

To children, the presence of intelligent friends in the house is a means of advancement, a real step in education. A family living wholly within itself grows inevitably narrow. Quite as important as the schools we choose for our children are the friends we gather around us, in their and our own behalf.

The Excitable Man.

Behind the counter, in the business office, in an argument, or on the battle field, the excitable man is a veritable nuisance. He is the fellow who goes off half-cocked, and when he opens his mouth always puts his foot in it. Wise people are very careful that they don't get associated with him in any kind of business. If he is a foreman anywhere he harasses everyone under and does little good for those above him. He doesn't know how to handle horses or men, for he makes them both hasty, and doesn't get out of them half that is in them.

The excitable man is a failure for he jumps at conclusions and becomes enthusiastic over trifles. Those are to be pitied who serve under him, and the excitable who serves is also a nuisance to the boss. The excitable man is always using his gab, such as it is. He forgets what is often written, that the man who speaks too little is very rare. The wise man's words are as gods, few and well ordered. Every reader can bear testimony to what we say. He can count severally in his own circle who are faulty in this matter, perhaps himself. The cure for this weakness is honest thought. "Think twice before you speak once" has been commended and disobeyed in all the generations. All stuttering comes from wanting to say too much and saying it too quickly. The gun that goes off half-cocked we throw away. It is dangerous. The same disposition should be made of the excitable man. Send him to the rear. Many a merchant has lost a good customer and much money by the excitable wagging of his tongue. Speaking unadvisedly with his lips is a common error, and as destructive to our peace and prosperity as it is common. The cool, calm, fellow doesn't tell half the thinks of persons and things. It would never do; the fat would be in the fire. You have made hasty and ugly remarks about somebody. You have done more than that. You have made them your enemy forever. Swell your income by good words, for it is not a bad way. Magnify the good and let the evil pass.

The coal in these tracts is of excellent quality and easy of access. It is also a six foot seam, which will be very profitable to work.

Mr. Patterson will proceed just as soon as practicable to the work of installing a coal mining plant upon his new holdings. This operation in such close proximity to Williamson will necessarily be very beneficial to business here, and will give employment to a large force of men. The news therefore will be very welcome in this section.

The addition of another $100,000 to the amount of money in circulation here must of necessity be of considerable assistance in the local financial world. Taken from any standpoint, this transaction is one of which we may all well be glad.

NEWS OF THE FARM.

Farm Improvements.

The farmer should give more consideration to his barns and fences, to his stable or dairy, to all the surroundings of farm life.

A stitch in time saves nine; repairs save labor and expense; a gate hinge out of order indicts the farmer before every visitor.

Keep everything in working order; it pays. Do not put off until tomorrow repairs to the roof or paint on the porch, or the swinging shutters. You labor for a home, and it is foolish to let go to ruin the things your labor in the field has paid for.

There is a vast difference in the way farms are kept. You notice it as you drive along the road. After the war the South was poverty-stricken, and it had to do the best it could, spending only for the actual necessities of life.

Every year should see every farm in better condition. Watch your roof, and when you repair it, do it well, with the best material.

Paint has a twofold mission; it preserves the thing painted and it gives an air of neatness which is a great part of beauty to whatever it touches.

This expenditure is not extravagant; it is real economy. Get good implements. Get good tools. Get the best seed. Keep the roof whole. If it is worn out, put a new roof on before the rains beat into the house and injure goods worth more than four to twelve inches.

Lack Of Exercise.

Lack of exercise is often the cause for sickness in the poultry yard. Lazy hens sooner or later have indigestion and other diseases can be traced to lack of exercise.

At this season of the year cold rains are frequent, and the hens will crowd around in the house and do no work unless they have been provided a light, roomy scratching shed. There is always sufficient

Randolph Bias, former Williamson postmaster, for alleged contempt of the Mingo Criminal Court, as expressed in comment on the Musick trial published in the Bluefield Telegraph. It will be remembered that Mr. Bias was summoned by special writ to appear before Judge Sampson on the first day of the present term. To this writ Mr. Bias filed an injunction before Judge Wilkinson, which injunction was granted, stopping Judge Sampson from hearing the cause in its former shape. Then followed the indictment. Mr. Bias appeared before the court last Saturday, with G. R. C. Wiles as his attorney, and demurred to the indictment, then moved to have same quashed. Both motions were overruled by the judge, and the ex-postmaster thereupon plead not guilty. A continuance of the case to the January term was then granted on the request of the prosecuting attorney, and Mr. Bias thereupon gave bond for his appearance at that time in the sum of $500 with Alex Bishop as surety.

The case is one that will attract much interest, as it will open up the "graft" charges again in full, and will doubtless be stoutly contested both by Mr. Bias and the State.

$100,000 Land Deal.

One of the biggest land deals ever consummated in this section was completed last week by Mr. J. W. Peters, of this city, by which S. W. Patterson, of Vivian, becomes the owner of the valuable coal properties near Williamson, lying for the most part on Sycamore creek, and owned formerly by J. W. Riley, the Lawson heirs, and Richard Williamson. The deal involves the transfer of about $100,000, and is, we understand, practically a cash transaction. Mr. Patterson, who already owns some Williamson property, is one of the most active and energetic among the operators in the Pocahontas field. He resides at Vivian, and though not very well known here generally, is a frequent visitor to our city.

The coal in these tracts is of excellent quality and easy of access. It is also a six foot seam, which will be very profitable to work.

Mr. Patterson will proceed just as soon as practicable to the work of installing a coal mining plant upon his new holdings. This operation in such close proximity to Williamson will necessarily be very beneficial to business here, and will give employment to a large force of men. The news therefore will be very welcome in this section.

The addition of another $100,000 to the amount of money in circulation here must of necessity be of considerable assistance in the local financial world. Taken from any standpoint, this transaction is one of which we may all well be glad.

The consumption of poultry and eggs is probably double of twenty years ago. The public is growing more discriminating, however, and now demands the very best eggs and poultry. No half starved fowls nor filthy eggs are wanted, while first-class stock is in great demand and at profitable prices.

The day of the mongrel has passed and those who expect to reap the benefit of high prices must keep pure breeds.

Selected Seed Corn.

Editor Home and Farm:

I wish to have a talk with our brother farmers on the subject of seed corn selecting. What excuse can we make for waiting until spring to select our seed corn, then go to the crib and get our seed, and, of course, we can't tell whether the ear we select was grown on a stalk having only one good ear or one with two or three ears. Besides the make-up of the stalk should be considered, for it takes more fertility to support a large stalk with ear as high as you can reach than it does a medium stalk with same number of ears not over three and a half feet from the ground. So why not select our seed corn in the field, where we can tell number of ears to the stalk and its make-up? If we have not got a good variety to select from, we should buy seed next season and begin our own selecting in field next fall. If we want ears low on stalk we should save the lowest ear for seed, so let's wake up to the importance of selecting seed, be it corn, cotton or any other crop.

R. D. GIPSON.

Cow Peas Great Crop.

Some varieties of cow peas have upright bushy forms of growth; some trail along on the ground like vines. The pods vary in length from four to twelve inches.

The colors are as various as those of the rainbow—white, red, green, brown, pink, purple, black or mottled.

In shape they also differ; some are round, others flat or kidney shaped.

The time for maturing ranges from sixty days to three or four months. Drilling the seed is preferable when hay is wanted.

After corn is laid by cow peas are drilled in between rows and they will yield a fine pasture for stock.

Stomach Blood and Liver Troubles

Much sickness starts with weak stomach, and consequent poor, impoverished blood. Nervous and pale people lack good, rich, red blood. Their stomachs than his stomach, for, after all, a man can be no stronger than his stomach.

A remedy that makes the stomach strong and the liver active, makes rich red blood and overcomes and drives out disease-producing bacteria and cures a whole multitude of diseases.

You can't afford to accept any medicine of unknown composition as a substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery," which is a medicine of known composition, having a complete list of ingredients in plain English on its bottle-wrapper, same being attested as correct under oath.

grain left over in the litter to tempt the hens to begin scratching at daylight, and thus get their appetites in good order before the morning meal is ready.

Too much importance cannot be attached to the scratching shed; in fact, one should not expect the hens to lay during the winter unless they are kept busy. The more work the hens do the healthier they will keep.

Turkey Season.

This is the season for turkeys, and we should remember that the tall, lanky gobblers with no flesh on his frame will not be the one which the buyer will want. The demand is for well-fattened plump fowls, with full breasts, nicely dressed and delivered in prime condition.

Many otherwise good fowls are spoiled in dressing and shipping. There is much to look after in preparing turkeys for market. In the first place turkeys should be fat, and it will require not less than thirty days to put them in that condition. During the time of fattening turkeys must not be confined, but should be allowed their liberty in the fields. They should be fed morning and night all they will eat. Be careful that they have fresh water and grit. Whole corn with an occasional mixture of other grain will produce the best results. Do not wait until the last week and then try to rush them. It takes time to round out their bodies and give them plump full breast.

Eggs And Poultry.

It is predicted from time to time that the limit for prices on eggs and poultry would soon be reached. The demand, however, continues to exceed the supply, and each season's prices surpass those of the preceding year.

The consumption of poultry and eggs is probably double of twenty years ago. The public is growing more discriminating, however, and now demands the very best eggs and poultry. No half starved fowls nor filthy eggs are wanted, while first-class stock is in great demand and at profitable prices.

after the corn is gathered. When drilling for this purpose the later kind are best.

Three pecks to the acre for this work. Peas should be sown not over three inches deep and the soil must be dry and warm.

When drilling for hay any after culture aids very much in the yield.

When the peas begin to show signs of ripening, by the pods and foliage beginning to turn yellow, we mow for hay.

Let the vines remain as cut for at least 24 hours, to cause wilting, and throw into small piles or cocks to dry out thoroughly.

They should not be drawn in for several days if the weather will allow.

If the trailing sort are planted care must be taken in stacking that good ventilation is given to prevent mold.

A good stand will yield from one and one-half to two tons per acre.

In the north it is a valuable drought-resisting plant and will grow where almost any other plants would perish.

Many farmers save only seed sufficient for their own use, as the labor is tedious.
